Lazarides Gallery presents
'THE OUTSIDERS, NEW YORK'
at the Bowery, New York
26 September – 12 October 2008

Lazarides Gallery is proud to present new work from its artists in New York. Entirely new pieces will be shown in Manhattan from the Lazarides stable.

The people who staged Antony Micallef's LA debut in 2007 will now be descending on the streets and buildings of New York. The collective of artists more recently known as The Outsiders will show work inside and outside the pop-up gallery, as well as perform and shock as only they can.

Representing the best of Lazarides across a range of styles, the show will feature works from Faile, Paul Insect, JR, Antony Micallef, Jonathan Yeo, Miranda Donovan, Invader, David Choe, Mark Jenkins, Todd James, Vhils, Polly Morgan, Mode 2, BAST, Conor Harrington and Zevs.

Lazarides promises to cut to the core of the Big Apple. Antony Micallef will show his huge Times Square piece (illustrated) and Faile, JR and Blu, whose huge graphic murals adorned Tate Modern will show alongside Jonathan Yeo's porno portrait of the US President. Zevs will perform using his unique liquidated logo on a very different kind of naked canvas. Invader, famous for leaving cubic aliens around the planet, will be revealing his most ambitious psychogeography to date, and another secret work will provide a certain famous lady with some much needed funding for her forthcoming presidential campaign.

Since 2004, Lazarides has expanded to include four galleries, and has played host to some of the UK's most cutting edge sell-out shows, representing artists whose work shuns the mainstream with its lively outlook and popular spirit. Fun, irreverent and at the helm of a new movement in art, the gallery is now crossing the Atlantic. This month-long exhibition, The Outsiders, will deliver all the razamatazz of a Lazarides production, stateside.
